A WESTERN SHEEP RANCHER

Some Interesting Details of the Sarnia Ranch Company's Flocks Near Walsh, Assa.

The Guelph Mercury gives the following interesting account of a visit to the ranch of the Sarnia Ranch Co., which is undoubtedly the largest sheep ranch in the Territories. The managing partner of the Company is Mr. Grant, who, it will be remembered, was nominated as the Liberal candidate in the Dominion elections over a year ago, but withdrew from the contest. The account is from the pen of Mr. Hobson himself:—"A pleasant drive of six miles took us to one of the loveliest homes I had ever seen in this western country, and I had seen a good many on this and on my former trips through this country. On the road from the station we were driving through his pastures all the way, passing as we went along a flock of 2,000 fat sheep, which were sold and which were going to be shipped in a few weeks.

"Mr. Grant is assisted by his two sons in the management. They are bright, clever, well-educated young men, and like their father are enthusiasts in this work. They seem to have reduced their business down to a very fine point—not the slightest matter of detail but is apparently carefully attended to. General principles are not enough—close attention to details or otherwise, as Mr. Grant puts it, leads up to success or failure as the case may be.

"Theland occupied is very extensive. We had driven six miles through his land when driving from the station on the north side, and the most of his sheep were pasturing on the land fifteen miles beyond the buildings on the south, leaving all the grass on the nearer stretches for winter feed. The sheep are all divided up into bands of 2,000 each. Each band is attended to by one man, who watches over them and is responsible for their good management. The shearing is done by the Mormons under contract. The price paid is usually about 6 1/2 cents per head. The average number clipped per man per day is seventy five, taking weather wet and dry. Good shearers, however, will often do their hundred and over in a day. This sheep ranching under proper management is very profitable in the country, speaking in a general way, lying between Medicine Hat and Maple Creek. Mr. Grant puts the whole cost of a large number of sheep—say 8,000 or 10,000 head—at 40 cents per head per year, or, putting it in another way, that the fleece will be a good deal more than pay for the whole cost. The fat sheep are now bringing about 3 1/2 cents per lb. An abundant supply of hay is provided for winter. If the weather is severe considerable is required, if not it is carried over for next winter's use. During the whole winter the sheep are housed at night, and as in the summer in lots of 2,000 each in one corral 225 feet square, covered in, with large yard attached.

"We enjoyed to the fullest extent the drives we had during the day, always within the confines of this ranch—now up on the high ground, where in this clear atmosphere one can readily see twenty or thirty miles—again away down into a deep dell rank with luxuriant growth of trees and bush, across streams the banks of which were lined with berry-bearing bushes laden at this time with ripe fruit. As we drove along we crossed many old buffalo trails deeply sunk in the ground. These were from divergent ways, but all meeting near one point where strong springs gave an abundant supply in summer and open water in winter.

"In the evening sixteen sat down to dinner, a happy crowd. As we chatted away until nearly midnight we felt that an air of comfort, and, we may add, refinement, permeated this home on the ranch. Here were to be seen in this plain home the best magazines and reviews of the day; not much style, but much that tends to refine and build up strong character."

Rifle Notes.
Interest in rifle shooting has been on the wane for the past month and is practically confined to those competing for the Watt cup. With the advent of cooler weather, however, and the approaching fall tournament, it is expected to revive. Mr. A. Hitchcock has very generously donated a handsome silver smoker's set to be competed for on that occasion.

W. J. White won last week's prize with a score of 91. He is putting up a silver napkin ring for this week's competition.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

In a Fit of Anger Adam Grega Slays His Aged Father With An Axe.

A fearful crime was committed at Kaposvar, the Hungarian colony near Whitewood, early on Saturday morning last by Adam Grega, in the momentary madness of overpowering anger. The murderer is 28 years old, is married and has one child. The victim is the aged father, Andrew Grega. It appears that the latter had been living with his son up to three days previous to the tragedy, returning on Friday night to collect his property, including a few chickens. The murderer deposes that shortly after sunrise his wife came to him complaining that the father was taking all the chickens in addition to his own. On being remonstrated with, the old man, who is said to be very hot tempered and passionate, insisted on taking them and struck his son in the face. The latter told him to do it again, and he did so and a third time also.

By this time the son was as angry as his father, and catching up the first thing that came to his hand, which happened to be an axe, hit his father with it on the side of the head. The latter fell to the ground and Adam struck him again on the neck a number of times, how many he has no recollection of, until the head was nearly severed from the trunk.

Remorse seems to have followed only too quickly, as immediately after his awful crime the parricide started to walk to Whitewood, arriving there about 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening.

He first went and told the ghastly story to Stephen Kedba, an Austrian, who is well known in the neighborhood and who advised him to give himself up to Constable Quinn, which advice he forthwith followed. The constable wired his superior, Inspector McDonnell, of Moosomin, who sent an additional constable to the scene of the murder.

The murderer made his statement in a simple and straightforward manner, and is evidently in great distress of mind. He is of a quiet disposition, physically tall and slightly crippled.

Dr. Allingham, coroner of Broadview, held an inquest on Monday at Kaposvar on the body when a verdict of wilful murder was rendered.

He'll Make a Politician.

An old Dutchman had a beautiful boy of whom he was very proud, and he decided to find out the bent of his mind. He adopted a very novel method by which to test him. He slipped into the little fellow's room one morning and placed on his table a bottle, a bottle of whiskey and a silver dollar. "Now," said he, "ven dot boy comes in, ef he dakes dot dollar he's goin' to be a beezies man; ef he dakes dot bible he'll be a preacher; ef he dakes dot whiskey he's no goot—he's goin' to be a drunkard," and he hid behind the door to see which his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He ran up to the table, and picked up the dollar and put it in his pocket; he picked up the bible and put it under his arm; then he snatched up the bottle of whiskey, and took two or three drinks and went out smacking his lips. The old Dutchman poked his head out from behind the door and exclaimed—"Mine Got, he's going to be a politician."

That Kicking Cow.

Commenting on a letter from "W. O. D." published recently in the Farmers' Advocate, Hoard's Dairyman says: "This is the way we do: Before beginning to milk put a strong rope or strap around the cow just up tight when she is standing naturally. Have this rope or strap close in front of the udder, passing over the back just back of the points of the hips. Remember, back of the hip points, not in front, for it would do very little good there. Now go to milking gently. She may try to kick but she positively cannot. The rope is around her tight, it comes down her flank just in front of the stifle joint. The moment she raises her foot this joint pushes forward under the rope. It is like driving a wedge under it, making it so fearfully tight she can't stand the pressure and she will put her foot down before she has had time enough to kick. She may now hop up with both feet at once, but she cannot get either foot forward. She will not try to kick but once or twice, because she punishes herself severely every time she does. Now be gentle with her and milk as carefully as possible, and the cow will be broken of kicking by the use of skill and strategy instead of brute strength."

The name of the correspondent must in all cases accompany the letter, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.]

The Clerkship.

To the Editor of THE TIMES.

Dear Sir,—I have read the report of the proceedings taken against the late clerk and I may say for glaring falsifications none only those in charge could be capable of such misrepresentation. The town Inspector made a statement which was a direct contradiction of the statement made by me. Somebody lied. Investigation would probably have fastened the lie where it belonged. Councillor Hannah asked for an investigation. Councillors Herrier and Smale moved for my dismissal and Mayor Hogue voted with them. The minutes state that "after investigation." There was no investigation, but the minutes of that meeting were cooked by Mayor Hogue to whitewash himself and his pals. He furnished the copy to the present clerk. When I called at the Mayor's office the morning after my dismissal for a copy of the Inspector's statement, he (the Mayor) denied that he agreed to give it to me. Those who were in the office that night will perhaps remember what he said. There was no chance for investigation. Mayor Hogue's methods were shown up not long ago and in his mortification he tendered his resignation. Like the proverbial snake in the grass, he reconsidered swallowed his venom and laid low. He lives so close to the line of rectitude that investigation generally discovers him on the wrong side. Councillors Herrier and Smale would probably find themselves in awkward positions under investigation.

When I issued the summons against the town I hoped to place Mayor Hogue and the Town Inspector before a tribunal over which they had no control and when they would have to tell the truth. I may say that the Mayor at first denied my request to have the statement of the Inspector taken in writing.

In the case at issue the pedlar was in town two or three days before the Inspector knew it. Had he been peddling? If so he was liable to the penalties imposed by the by-law and the duties of Inspector provide that he shall acquiesce himself with the by-laws. The past week a citizen of the town was summoned and fined for drying without a license. Who ordered this? If the Inspector was powerless to act in the case of the pedlar, where did he get the authority to prosecute the citizen? What licenses have been collected this year? In the Council paying the Inspector thirty-five dollars a month for duty to the town? If they are the duty is scandalously neglected and the money scandalously spent, and investigation will prove it.

A motion was passed on the 16th ordering the Clerk to pay into court the balance due me. This was not done till the 21st, and yet at the caucus where the appointment was made this gentleman was represented as the some of perfection.

The Chairman of Finance was the means of having a list of licenses placed with the Treasurer for the guidance of the Inspector, and he was plainly instructed to go there for his information.

Had the matter been investigated and had I been dismissed by the intelligent vote of the Council I would certainly have felt my position. As it is I feel like the man that was kicked by the donkey, I consider the source and for the present accept the kick.

Thanking you for space, I am
Yours truly,
O. B. FYSH.

Inquiry Meeting.

Doors open at 7:30 p.m., programme commences at eight.

A Mogul Ditched.

Shortly before six o'clock last evening a rather serious accident occurred at the C.P.R. shops at this place. The big mogul engine, No. 637, which had just brought the Pacific express in, was standing on the side track near the coal sheds, when Mr. John Stavast, the coal man, who is a foreigner, boarded her and started for the shops. He got her going all right, but not knowing much about a locomotive, he got excited and was unable to stop her, and away she went at thirty miles an hour. The side track led into the round house. The turntable was not adjusted, but Mr. D. Kello happened to see her coming and ran out to fix it. Over she went, but when coming off the table she missed the rail at the other side, and buried herself about two feet in the earth, tearing up the tracks, etc., the full length of the engine. The accident was bad enough, but it might have been worse. Had the table not been adjusted the engine would have run into the hole and there would have been a general smash up. Again had it not missed the track it would have went right through the round house. "Engineer" Stavast stuck right to his post to the end, and fortunately did not sustain any injuries. The entire staff of the round house was engaged all night in jacking the engine up and it will probably be put on the track today.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS

Searchlight: In these days of trusts and consolidation, strikes and cut downs between labor and railroads, it may be interesting to know what has been and what can be done to remedy these evils. We never hear of any strikes, cut downs on the railways of Australia, and why? Because the government owns and operates them in the interest of the people.

In Australia you can ride a distance of 1,000 miles across the country for $6.50, first class, too, while working men can ride 6 miles for 2 cents, 12 miles for 4 cents, 30 miles for 10 cents, etc., and railroad men receive 25 to 30 per cent. more wages for eight hours work than they are paid in this country for ten hours toil.

In Victoria, where the above rates prevail, the net income from the road last year was sufficient to pay all the Federal taxes.

In Hungary, where the roads are state owned, you can ride for 6 miles for 1 cent, and since the Government has bought the roads wages have doubled. Belgium tells the same story—fares and freight rates cut down one half and wages doubled.

Yet the roads pay a yearly revenue to the government of $4,000,000.

In Germany you can ride 4 miles for 1 cent on the government owned lines. Yet wages are over 120 per cent. higher than when the private corporations owned them, and during the last ten years the net profits have increased 41 per cent. Last year the roads paid the German government a net profit of $25,000,000.

If our Government owned the railroads one could go from Toronto to Vancouver for about $10.

A DOLLAR A BUSHEL.

The Winnipeg Commercial of Monday, Aug. 23rd, says:—The feature of the week has been the remarkable boom in wheat. Prices have continued very strong. On Wednesday there was a big advance at leading markets and yesterday there was another boom in the markets, making a wonderful advance in a short time. All markets were booming yesterday both in Europe and America. American markets advanced about 8c., and at Chicago prices advanced 2c. to 3c. on the curb yesterday afternoon, after the market closed. Puts and Calls showed a range of 10c. up to $1 at Chicago. The advance is due to the same conditions as previously noted, namely, large exports, light stocks, decreasing estimates of the spring wheat crop and reports of light crops in Europe. The sole cause of the "boom," however, is not due to wheat conditions. It is partly due to the improved commercial outlook and to returning confidence. When times are very slow and the commercial situation unsatisfactory, it takes a great deal to work up a "boom" in any line, even under favorable conditions. The present advance in wheat is to a considerable extent attributable to business confidences and improving times.

The local market has been very firm. Manitoba wheat followed the advance from 89c. for No. 1 hard last Saturday up to 91c. on Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon there were sales at 94c. and even 95c. was reported as realized. On the reaction Thursday 94c. was about the quotation for No. 1 hard afloat, Fort William. Yesterday the market was wild. There were bids about the close of the exchange at 99c. for No. 1 hard, and later the prices were quoted nominal at about $1 per bushel for No. 1 hard afloat, Fort William.

FORTUNE SMILES ON US.

There seems to be a conspiracy of events to produce a Canadian "boom." When the United States was compelled to close its sea gates against the currents of humanity that had been flowing steadily westward from Europe for over half a century, the first conspiring circumstance appeared; for it was reasonable to expect that the streams of immigration which had hitherto been divided between the Dominion and the Republic would now come in much larger measure to us. The Republic had been longer in the business and seemed to be a better advertiser than the Dominion; but when it had no longer any land to give away, the Dominion became the natural air to all the historic European enthusiasm for the "Americas." Then on top of this, we had a great wheat year, and Manitoba took full advantage to show the world what she could do. Then came the opening of the Roseland camp, which put British Columbia at once on a level with the Transvaal in the eyes of sparkling opportunity hunters the world over.

And finally within the last few weeks our collection of prosperity traps has been crowned by the dazzling coronet of Klondyke. To these may be added, too, the advertisement that Sir Wilfrid's visit and Mr. Fielding's tariff have secured us in the British Isles. Truly "it never rains but it pours," and fortune appears bound to bewilder us with the multiplicity of her gifts.

The question that occurs at once to the practical Canadian is—What are we going to do about it? Here are opportunities by the handful, but opportunities may be missed or neglected. It will not do for the Ministers who at this critical time are responsible for the welfare of the country, to do nothing but thank the fates and get their political wash-tubs out for a share of the rainfall. They should assist these favoring circumstances in their generous conspiracy to make us prosperous. They should, in fact, join the conspiracy and actively promote its purposes. The country wants a positive, forward policy, keeping sure step with the most fleet-footed opportunity; and the Government will be judged largely by its ability to meet this demand. We ought to get more people, more business, more money and more prosperity, as the result of this friendly conspiracy.—Star.

DAIRY EXPORTS TO GREAT BRITAIN.

Having devoted money and practical skill to the encouragement of the production of food stuffs, outside of wheat, for foreign markets; and having made provision for these products reaching their destination in prime condition, the Department of Agriculture has lately been investigating the markets in Great Britain with a view of finding agencies for their disposal to the best advantage. The agent of the Department, Professor Robertson, in pursuance of this object, has lately been in conference with boards of trade and other bodies in the old country, and has excited a good deal of interest and inquiry which will bear fruit in due time.

The occasion is well chosen. The sentiment of the British people is just now strongly inclined towards closer intercourse with Canada, and they are ready to see and take advantage of the inexhaustible source of supply it promises to be for breadstuffs. The inhabitants of the British Isles are largely fed from importations; and in the event of war the ability to draw the food supply from British dominions would solve one of the greatest difficulties. The British people are only beginning to get a faint conception of the capacity of the Dominion to fill this want; and it accounts to some extent for the warm reception given to Canada's agent at all the great centres of trade. Columns of space are devoted to these meetings and to interviews with Professor Robertson on the subjects of his mission. When this is done by representative newspapers like the London Times, London Chronicle, and London Daily News, the Manchester Guardian and the leading trade journals, it may safely be assumed that the matter has reached a point of interest at which nothing is required but for us to begin vigorously the exportation of the products they are so ready to buy from us.

The products dealt with chiefly by the Commissioner are those of perishable character, requiring cold storage in transit and packing in the exact form and condition which the market requires. We are encouraged by the prospects of these exports in view of the immense trade in cheese which eastern Canada has already established and chiefly by the means that are now being advocated and illustrated in the West. We are assured that there is an equally profitable future for the export of butter, poultry and eggs, in which western farmers can engage with equal advantage with their eastern neighbors. The British consumer only needs to be convinced that we can send him a superior article to the Danish, French or German, to turn his orders this way; and what has already been done in this way is the best evidence that the future growth of our trade in these products depends rather upon our willingness than our ability.

With wheat going up by bounds in the market and a good return in crop to the western farmer, we may very easily lose sight for the time of the importance of cultivating a trade in dairy products. But wheat prices are not always stable and wheat crops do not always give good returns; and the wise man is he who looks forward to the future and provides accordingly.—Tribune.

The postoffice department had a deficit of $700,000 on June 30th, 1896, but Mr. Mulock has materially reduced that in the year just closed, and hopes in the current year to have things break even. It will be a remarkable record for two years if he succeeds. The money order office has been increased several hundred, and other reforms and improvements introduced. Mr. Mulock is now engaged in overhauling several of the city offices. In the Montreal post office there are 24 employees, drawing about $12,000 a year, whose names do not appear in the public accounts, nor in the auditor general's report. There is nothing for them to do and no justification for their employment. The Quebec post-office is said to be nearly as bad, and St. John, N.B., postoffice is another example of mal-administration and extravagance, and the offices at London and Windsor, in Ontario, are in the same category. The postmaster general has just finished up Belleville Up to 1882 the revenue was $15,581 and the expenses $3,770. It was then made a city office with the result that last year the receipts were $17,591 and the expenses $8,174. The postmaster general intends to restore the old system, retiring several of the officials for the purpose of affecting this saving of between $3,000 and $4,000 a year, allowing for superannuation charges

The Westminster says: The denunciation of the Belgian and German treaties seems almost an old story now, the first flush of interest having gone. But the English papers which are now arriving should revive the matter a bit.

They all approve, and Canadians cannot but feel pleased at the extremely friendly and admiring references made to the Dominion on all sides in the mother land. That Canada has forced the hand of Imperial statesmen seems to be the general view, and loud are the praises for our action. Not only have we got Britain to take a significant and momentous step, but have made ourselves very popular in the doing. Not long ago an American newspaper correspondent said that Canada has been a great disappointment to Britain. It does not look like that now.

Three English capitalists who visited Toronto recently in the interests of an English syndicate, told the Globe that if the negotiations now pending between their party and the representatives of a certain enterprise were successful, the result would be the influx of several millions of English capital before the end of the year. They said that the visit of the Colonial Premiers to England, and especially of Canada's Premier, had done more to advertise the colonies than anything that had ever happened before. They considered that Mr. Laurier's visit to Britain was the best thing that ever happened to Canada, and that owing to the prestige that Canada now enjoys from his popularity there, from this out there will be no difficulty in getting all the English money wanted for sound business enterprises.

Mr. E. E. Sheppard, Canadian trade commissioner to South America, Central America and Mexico, has completed his work in Mexico and has prepared a very full report for the government on the possibilities of trade between that country and Canada. The prospects, in Mr. Sheppard's opinion, are encouraging. He says he was well received in Mexico. It was his intention to have gone to Central America before doing Mexico, but owing to yellow fever being prevalent there the steamer was running very irregularly and he was unable to do so. Lying in quarantine is not a very pleasant experience in any country, but much less so in a tropical land. After presenting his report to Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Sheppard will visit South America and will afterwards go to Central America.

One of our exchanges gives the following receipt for happiness: Keep your temper. Gain a little knowledge every day. Make few promises and speak the truth. Give full measure and weigh with a just balance. Consent to common custom but not to common folly. Be cautious of believing ill, but more cautious of reporting it. Have courage to wear your old clothes until you can pay for new ones. Think of heaven with hearty purpose and strong hope to get there. Do good to all that thou mayest keep thy friends and gain thy enemies. Count your resources. Find out what you are not fit for and give up wishing for it.

An ounce of experience is better than a pound of theory. The Thorold Post has this good word to say for the Curfew: "Thorold has now had the curfew bell for four months, and the police report its effect to be very beneficial. There is an utter absence of children from the streets after nine o'clock, and the change is for the better all around. By common consent the ringing of the bell is waived each Tuesday evening, or until the open air concert of the band is over."

Medicine Hat News: At several places along the trails leading into town there are patches of thistles blooming and scattering their seeds to the four winds. In the eastern provinces thistles are a curse. In the West the thistle is practically unknown. There should, in the interests of the country at large, be some means provided for having the thistles cut and destroyed before they have a chance to become a pest.

The Canada Presbyterian and The Westminster, the two leading journals of the Presbyterian Church in Canada have amalgamated, and hereafter The Westminster will represent the United publications. Mr. C. Blacket Robinson, will be president of the new company, and Rev. J. A. Macdonald will be editor of the amalgamated journals.

The Minister Who Drank in Moderation.

A minister in the Highlands of Scotland found one of his parishioners intoxicated. The next day he called to reproach him for it. "It is very wrong to get drunk," said the minister. "I ken that," said the man, "but then I dinna drink as much as you do." "What! How is that?" "Why! I ginit please ye, dinna ye aye take a glass o' whiskey with water after dinner?" "Why, yes, Jemmy, merely to aid digestion." "And dinna ye take a glass o' toddy every night before ye gang to bed?" "To be sure, just to help me to sleep." "Weel, that's just fourteen glasses a week, an' about sixty a month. I only get paid once a month, an' then I'd take sixty glasses it wd make me dead drunk for a week; now ye see the only difference is ye time it better than I do."

VICTORY FOR EASTSIMCOE.

Of one thing Mr. H. Bennett, the Conservative Standard Bearer in East Simcoe, is sure—He Suffered From Catarrhal Trouble and Found Speedy and Fixed Relief in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

In the coming bye-election it will not be settled until the votes are counted, whether Mr. W. H. Bennett, who had represented the constituency with ability for years will again be the successful candidate. One thing Mr. Bennett is certain of, whatever turn the election may take: When attending to his duties in Ottawa two seasons ago he was taken down with catarrhal trouble in the head. He used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder and over his own signature says that it worked like a charm, and quickly removed the trouble and made him fitted for his parliamentary duties. Sold by W. W. ## WHERE RHEUMATISM IS UNKNOWN.

No Matter How Intense the Pain South American Rheumatic Cure Will Remove It Quickly—A Lady of Highgate Tells What It Did For Her—Permanent Cure of a Case of Years Standing.

It has been declared by scientists that every disease has a remedy. The difficulty is to always find the remedy. In rheumatism South American Rheumatic Cure has been found a certain antidote for this painful disease. It is always effective. Mrs. N. Ferris, wife of a well-known manufacturer of Highgate, Ont., says:—"I was seriously affected with rheumatic pains in my ankles, and at times was almost disabled. I tried everything, as I thought, and doctored for years without much benefit. I was induced to use South American Rheumatic Cure. To my delight, the first dose gave me more relief than I had had for years and two bottles have completely cured me." Sold by W. W. Bole.

Self-Control.
A man who would be a gentleman, a woman who would be a lady, must learn self-control must spend much of their time in thinking of and for others; must avoid doing many things which would be disagreeable to others; must cultivate themselves in many ways which will make them agreeable to others. The study and the cultivation of the science of social life, even in its minor details, is not unprofitable. It gets rid of the coarser and ruder forms of selfishness; it makes people study how to make themselves agreeable to their fellows, and the more it reveals itself the more we discover its purpose, and that in reality not a single minute of all the forms of even etiquette itself, which sometimes appears so tedious, but has its basis in a real need or purpose, and if our present condition or more imperative requirements do not permit of strict attention to them, let us not despise or undervalue them on that account, but cultivate the graces and amenities to which they are closely allied so far as we can, so that it shall be seen that what we omit is the result of discriminating judgment or hard necessity, not of ignorance.—Ez

PURITAN GAMES.
We hear these days of our puritan forefathers, but little concerning the wives and mothers who landed at Plymouth Rock and founded that colony which was destined to play such a large part in our history. In 1621 Elder Cushman wrote from Plymouth that he would not advise any one to come here who were not content to spend their time, labor and endeavors for the benefit of those who shall come after, quietly contenting themselves with such hardships and difficulties as shall fall upon them. What self-renunciation and heroic purpose was this! They drew down the shades of their puritanism. It is to the puritan women we owe so much of that spirit in our people which gives them the fortitude to endure hardship and stake life and fortune for their convictions. The American women of today have the spirit of their puritan mothers, but their constitutions are not rugged or able to endure half the hardships of these New England ancestors. Very often they are run down with weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to their sex, and the constant drain upon their vitality makes them chronic invalids. Many women hesitate to go to their family physician, because they dread the local examinations so generally insisted upon by practitioners. Such women should write Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., giving a full description of their symptoms, history, etc., so that he can give them the best possible medical advice. If Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription seems to suit the case the Doctor will say so. If not, then he will give medical advice which will put such women on the rapid road to recovery and health.

MADE A DUDE OF HIM.

The Winnipeg Exhibition has a very Bad Influence on a Farmer's Son.

The following appears in the Delor-aine Times:—

Mister Editer, Sur:—My son Ab went down to the city of Winnipeg to see the show and stopped there close about a fortnite, and I karnt say as how the visit der done him any good. He did nite unto $80 when he went from here, and he cum back with $1.70 in his pocket, and nuthin' to show for it, harrin' a top white silk hat, a noo sutan an umbreller. I meets him at Whitewater station, and I diddunt know him from Adam, as the sayin' is, fue I took him for Adam Dude! He hills his top hat with a masher smirk
and bow an' saia, "Haw! how d'y'e do Paw?" I was that much took back yer cud have knocked me down with a sledge hammer, as the sayin' is. He puts a dime in the fist of the hired man and saia, "Haw! my good man, just put this walise into the wagon, will you?" I saia to him, "We've had a fair show o' rain lad since you un went away, and the crops be lookin' a darn sight better." He takes no notice o' this remark of mine but starts a torkin' o' what he'd seen in the city, he never lit up on this city tork all the way home, seat to koomplane o' the joltin', sayin' as how a wagon warn't in it long side o' lectric car.

This mornin' I call him at 5 o'clock, an' cummin' back from chorin' I finds him still a bed. He didd't hev no brekfast till nite unto 9. I was a swillin' the hogs at noon wen he cum along with a tired look an' a cigar stak in his mouth. I saia to him, a pintin' at the hogs, "How d'yer think them un pigs is a doin' lad?" He stares vakunt like, an' saia "wot pigs?" then I gets riled, an' sends him off to hitch onto the mower an' start in a hayin'. I guess he may git all rite agin in a week or so, Mister Editer, but if he had stayed at Winnipeg much longer the city mite hev kep him for good—for all the use he'd a bin on the farm.

The Scientific American says the longest bridge in the world is that over the Tay, in Scotland, which is 9,696 feet long; and the next longest is also in Great Britain, being that over the Firth of Forth, 5,552 feet in length. The following table gives the lengths of the principal bridges in various countries:

	Feet.
Tay, Great Britain.....	9,696
Forth, Great Britain.....	5,552
Moerdyk, Holland.....	4,820
Voigia, Russia.....	4,715
Weichsel, Germany.....	4,346
Rhein, Germany.....	4,172
Grandenz (Elbe) Germany.....	3,580
Brooklyn, United States.....	1,601

The greatest span of the Forth bridge is 1,725 feet; of the Elbe bridge, 1,378 feet; of the East River Bridge, 1,610
feet.

A Horse That Loved His Master.

The San Francisco Examiner publishes the following interesting horse story which originated in Rossland, B.C.:
"Jim Kelly, a well known prospector, came to Grand Forks after an absence in the mountains of six weeks.
"On arriving in town he staked out his horse and betook himself to 'the Cosmos Hotel' and proceeded to sample all kinds of liquor, prolonging his spree until Saturday afternoon.
"All day Friday, during Friday night and until late Saturday afternoon the horse waited, whinnying when anyone approached, but refusing any attempt to feed him. About sunset Saturday, his master not returning, the horse strained his picket rope till he finally succeeded in pulling the picket pin, and trailing the rope behind him he trotted up to 'the Cosmos,' keeping up a prolonged whinny. He walked up the steps to the porch and peered anxiously through the window in search of his master. For fifteen or twenty minutes he walked up and down the porch, whinnying as though in pain. Then after a long look into the window he left the porch, and with head hanging near the ground he deliberately walked into a stream of water about three feet deep, lay down on his side and buried his head under the water.
"The act was witnessed by me and by a number of others who were attracted by the horse's whinnying and strange conduct. We followed him down to the creek. There is no doubt he deliberately committed suicide.
When Kelly came off his spree on Sunday and learned of the horse's death he secured assistance and buried the faithful animal."

The old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of Mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver.
This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. As his sufferings to be imagined.

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them.
The impurities back up on the liver.
Then come the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

From Kidney Disease—Gravel and Stricture—An Absolute Cure
Found in South American Kidney Cure—A Remedy that Never Fails in the Most Distressing Cases.

The solid evidence of experience is behind
South American Kidney Cure. Mr. Wilbur Goff, of Chippewa, Ont., is simply one of the hundreds who have spoken in equally strong terms. He says: "After taking six bottles of South American Kidney Cure
I am completely cured of stricture and gravel, having suffered from this complaint for over ten years. I found great relief after taking one bottle but continued the remedy until I

APPARENTLY A HOPELESS CASE.

A Kincardine Banker Who Suffered Distressingly From Indigestion—Apparently a Hopeless Case of Stomach Trouble until South American Nerve Was Used—His Words are: "It Cured Me Absolutely."

What this wonderful remedy for all forms of stomach trouble can do is best told in the words of John Moyer, banker, Kincardine, Ont. "About a year ago, as a result of heavy work no doubt, I became very much troubled with indigestion; associated with it were those terribly distressing feelings that can hardly be described by any language.
I had tried various methods of ridding myself of the trouble, but without success, until I was influenced to use South American Nerve. The result, and I gladly say it for the benefit of others—this remedy cured me, and I never hesitate to recommend it to any person affected with any form of stomach trouble." Sold by W. W. Bole.

The Other Side.

"The world's are good," I said, "I cannot doubt."
I took my scissors then to cut them out;
But Mary seized my hand, "Take care,"
she cried,
"There's a picture on the other side."
I fell to musing. We are too intent On gaining that to which our minds are bent;
We choose, then fling the fragments far and wide,
But spoil the picture on the other side.
A prize is offered, others seek it too,
But on we press with only self in view.
We gain our point, and pause, well satisfied,
But, ah! the picture on the other side.
On this, a sound of revelry we hear:
On that, a wall of mourning strikes the ear;
On this, a carriage stands with groom and bride;
A hearse is waiting on the other side.

We call it trash—we tread it roughly down,
The thing that others might have deemed a crown;
An infant's eyes, anointed, see the gold
Where we, world-blinded, only brass behold.
We pluck a weed, and fling it to the breeze,
A flower of fairest hue another sees;
We strike a chord with careless smile and jest,
And break a heartstring in another's breast.
Tread soft, and softer still, as on you go,
Life's page well finished, turn it, satisfied,
And lo! Heaven's picture on the other side.

How the Beggar Taught the King.

One day a King, in irritated mood,
Grew angry at his Minister of State,
And spoke and acted in a way quite rude,
And not at all becoming one so great.
The Minister was vexed, yet was afraid
To vent his passion on the ill bred King;
But afterward, to ease his mind, he made
His secretary write some sharp fling.
The secretary cooled his temper by Berating one who served about the house;
The servant, angered, dared not make reply,
And took the scolding quiet as a mouse.
But raved and swore a moment later, when He found a bigger at the palace gate.
"Be off," he cried, "and don't you dare Come here, or you will meet a sorry fate!"
The beggar smiled, but not an angry smile—
A smile transfiguring his careworn face;
The servant, softened, stood and mused a while,
And marvelled at the man's forgiving grace.

When next the secretary sharply spoke,
The servant met him in a better mood,
And in the secretary's breast awoke
The consciousness that he was harsh and rude.

And so, in turn, he answered pleasantly
When next the Minister indulged a sneer;
The Minister was quick his fault to see,
And frankly owned it like a noble peer.
And when the king, sour-tempered and still vexed,
Rebuked once more his Minister of State,
The latter's unflinching meek perplexed
And sobered off the Royal potentate.

He thanked the statesman for the lesson taught,
And vowed that it should last him for a while;
But neither king or statesman ever thought
They learned their lesson through a beggar's smile.

A Big July Rain.

The hired man is sleeping in the hay,
The wet hen huddles within their own house stays.
The sulky red squirrel crouches in a crotch,
The half-drowned house fly seeks a sheltering noth.
The shing swallows, twittering in their glee,
Dart back and forth like fishes in the sea.
And through the roof a drop with noisy clunk
Falls in a dish, plinkety, plink, plunk, plunk!
Another drop upon the shanty stove.
Bothers the house wife from the roof above.
It strikes the kettle with a joyous clank,
Klink, klang, klinkety, klunk, plink, plang, plank.
The hired man's overalls beside the fire
Steaming awake the farmer maiden's ire;
The muddy dog is nuzzled from the door,
And "wip wip" your feet" soon rises to a roar.
Wet matches fill with woe the old man's soul.

He sadly lights his dhudeen with a coal;
The shocked up barley blackens in the rain,
And takes upon itself the fatal stain;
And yonder tender folk, with drooping head,
Half winch he was but a frog instead;
A crow benighted shuffles through the sky,
And in the bush we hear the treetoad's cry.
The farmers gather in the blacksmith shop
And swap opinions on the summer's crop.
The boy—a month ago he hated schools—
Is fishing sudden hay from out the pools,
And well he wishes holidays were o'er.
For doing sums don't make the fingers sore.
A drowning mouse crawls up his trouser leg.
He softly for a moment fain would beg;
The boy in horror thinks it is a snake,
Tehold him for the barn in terror break.
And shrieking through the yard he gains the house.
They snatch his overalls and find a mouse.
The yelling women to each other cling.
The waked up hired man plays the awful thing.
But after that the indignant women folk
Most teasing questions at our hero poke;
And Cousin Nellie in her scornful way
Says, "When you go to gather in the hay Hadden't you better take along a cat?"
Now, what poor boy can stand a thing like that?
But he will learn from out this hayfield scrape
Girl's tongues were made to lick boys into shape.

PICKLING ..

.. AND ..

PRESERVING.

THE season is now on for pickling and preserving, and in this connection we again wish to direct you to our "Concentrated Vinegar," which for tasting and keeping qualities cannot be excelled. We have sold 660 gallons—nearly 16 barrels—since introducing it. Do not be dissuaded from using our vinegar because competitors may say it is not pure. That is what they call "business." Our "Concentrated Vinegar" is a pure acetic vinegar, containing 5½ per cent. real vinegar acid which should be found in every pure vinegar. Directions for making will be placed on every bottle sold. 25c. a pound, makes nearly a gallon. See our special prize in the Agricultural Society prize list for pickles made with "Concentrated Vinegar."

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Monday, Sept. 7th, is labor day—a Dominion holiday.

Mr. D. McLean returned this week after an extended visit to Windsor, Ont.

Brakeman Jas. Cline has been promoted, and made his first trip as conductor on Wednesday.

The wife and family of Con. Geo. Mann left last week for Brandon, where they will reside in future.

Mr. Ross, M.L.A., was in town on Wednesday, on business in connection with road improvements in the district.

Mr. J. K. McInnis, of The Standard, Regina, passed through on Wednesday morning's train en route to the Kootenay.

Mr. W. N. Mitchell returned home on Tuesday evening after a successful business tour of the towns in the western part of the district.

The Misses Motto, of Winnipeg, arrived in town on Monday morning and are the guests of their brother, Mr. Geo. Motto, of the C.P.R.

Fireman Albert McCauley returned this week from Winnipeg where he had been attending a Brotherhood meeting in company with Engineer Jno. Wellington.

Train despatcher Ed. Hunt left on Monday for a visit to his home at St. Thomas, Ont. He went via the Soo line and will visit Chicago and other American cities while en route.

PHOTOGRAPHS.—Only a few days longer, W. J. Gould removes to Regina, O. 31st. Compare my work with the "one you know," who cannot make even third class in a studio.—ADVT.

Returns of live stock inspectors show that to the 31st of July, 22,300 sheep, 56,000 cattle and 4,788 horses were shipped from Montreal to Europe, an increase of 3,000 sheep, 11,000 cattle, and a decrease of 1,000 horses, compared with last year.

Harvesting operations throughout the district are progressing rapidly. The weather for the past week, with the exception of a heavy rain on Wednesday, has been very favorable. A number of the farmers have finished cutting, and a few have their grain stacked.

PHOTOGRAPHY.—Home studio open the 20th of September for ten days. Am now making a specialty of the dull finish (in cabinet, heads and groups) the latest and best in photography. Save your orders for one you know and get first class work, better than can possibly be made in a tent. W. C. Lusk.—A3.

A large number of the farm excursionists stopped off here on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and most of them have already secured employment. The excursionists are not all farmers' sons, but also include a number of mechanics, tradesmen, and even professional men, who have taken advantage of the cheap rate to see the country.

The Farmer's Elevator Company of Lumsden is getting into shape. A meeting was called for Saturday last at Lumsden to which subscribers and intending subscribers were invited. It is proposed to place the capital stock at three thousand dollars. Two thirds of the amount was taken up in three days, and it is thought that more stock will be subscribed than is necessary. It is proposed to build at once a 30,000 bushel elevator.

Mr. J. G. Chalmers left last evening for Indian Head and other Eastern Assiniboia towns.

Mrs. J. E. Cullen left Monday evening on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Wilson, of Qu'Appelle.

Mrs. Van Alstyne, of Pilot Mound, Man., was in town a few days this week as the guest of Supt. Milestone.

The Territorial bicycle meet will be held at Calgary on Sept. 6th and 7th, and a splendid programme of events has been arranged.

The annual picnic of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be held at Mr. Thos. Aspin's grove, south of town, on Saturday, Sept. 4th.

The open season for ducks commenced on Monday. The season for grouse, partridge and prairie chicken commences on the 15th of next month.

Brakeman Olio Olafsson had his hand severely crushed while coupling cars at Estevan last week. Under the care of Dr. McCulloch it is making favorable progress.

Mr. Wm. Grayson has decided to build a new brick block on Main street next to Jno. Bellamy's, and the work of excavating for the basement was commenced this week.

Mr. C. Neff, late of W. N. Mitchell's has opened up a tailor shop at Medicine Hat. His many Moose Jaw friends wish him every success in the busy little railway town.

Jno. Doan, of Stony Beach, is gazetted a commissioner for taking affidavits, and Wm. Milburn, of Swift Current, is appointed inspector of hides under the Hides Ordinance.

Gold has more control over the human soul than any other metal, and when the fever breaks out it can only be cured by liberal dose of black flies, frost, short rations and constant travelling.

The scarcity of hay in the Wolsley district is causing quite a number of disputes over hay claims. In several cases the aid of the law has been invoked to decide on which side right lies.

Owing to the busy times and great demand for engines the passenger engines are now running from here to Medicine Hat and from here to Brandon instead of to Swift Current and Broadview as heretofore. The present arrangement will likely continue through the rush.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McLean left on Tuesday for Medicine Hat with their little daughter, Jennie, who had such a severe attack of bowel trouble that she had to be taken to the hospital, and it was thought that an operation would have to be performed. Latest reports, however, state that she is recovering.

The Territorial Gazette contains notice of an application for incorporation of the Medicine Hat Trading Co. (Limited). The company is composed chiefly of railway hands residing in Medicine Hat and neighborhood. It is to have a capital stock of $10,000, divided into one thousand shares at $10 each, and is formed for the purpose of carrying on a general store business.

The following registered at the dining hall since last issue:—Geo. J. Ross, W. H. Orchard, Montreal; Arthur Poote, R. Barker, Toronto; G. Boivert, Rodgers' Pass; W. W. McMillan, Winnipeg; Jno. E. Ramshaw, Ft. Erie; Benj. Sanis, Listowel; Geo. Jacoby, Montreal; J. S. Menzies, Toronto; J. Jones, Indian Head; W. A. McFarlane, C. A. Godfrey, Winnipeg, C. R. Stovel, Prince Albert.

Mr. Hamilton Lang left Friday last for Anthracite, having secured the principalship of the school at that place. Mr. Lang has been in Moose Jaw for seven or eight years, and was for a time a member of the Moose Jaw Public School staff, which position he resigned to become editor and proprietor of THE TIMES. He took a great interest in the Masonic lodge, and is District Deputy Grand Master of the order. As a token of their appreciation of his services the members of the local lodge A. F. and A. M. presented him with a Past Master's Jewel at their regular meeting on Thursday evening.

The Right Rev. Dr. Ridley, Bishop of Caledonia, B. C., passed through Moose Jaw en route for his diocese from a visit to England attending the Pan Anglican or Lambeth conference. His Lordship in conversation referred to the Indian population in his diocese and drew a graphic picture of their intelligence, ability and advancement in Christianity, giving it as his opinion that in every respect the Indians of northern British Columbia far excelled the white population in that part of the province. There is not a single wigwag in his diocese, and their houses are cleaner, cleaner and better finished than those of their white brethren. Furthermore they out-trip the whites in intelligence, carrying off the majority of the educational honors in the schools and their musical ability is especially remarkable, all the organists being natives. Dr. Ridley stated that there is as much difference in point of intelligence and aptitude between the Indians of his district and Sioux of Moose Jaw, as between the English speaking people and the lower class Chinese.

Mr. Walter Scott, of Regina, was in town to day.

Mrs. Geo. Hysop and family returned home Sunday morning from their visit to friends in the east.

Mr. Sam. Grieve, of Brandon, arrived on Wednesday, having secured a position in D. McTavish's barber shop.

There will be service at the school house, Carmel, on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 29th, at 3 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. W. Watson.

Rev. T. Ferrier was in Prince Albert last week on an official visit to the various fields in the district of which he is chairman.

The Rev. W. Watson will be at the school house, Point Elms, on Sunday morning next, Aug. 29th, and will conduct divine service at 11 o'clock.

R. J. McBeth, C.P.R. station agent at Prince Albert, and Mrs. McBeth, are spending a short time with friends at Estevan. Mr. Ralph Manley is in charge at Prince Albert.

Mr. Fred. Hunt left on Monday for Indian Head to relieve Mr. Thos. Jones, C.P.R. operator at that place, who passed through on Wednesday en route west to spend his holidays.

Mr. C. R. Stovel, of Prince Albert, organizer of the Independent Order of Foresters, and an old time resident of Moose Jaw, spent a day or two in town this week, on his way west to organize Courts of the I.O.F. in Alberta.

Rev. T. W. Cunliffe, of Maple Creek was in town a couple of days this week, returning home yesterday morning. Mr. Cunliffe has raised by subscription about $300.00 for the erection of a two story stone parsonage at Maple Creek, on which work commenced a short time ago.

Owing to a typographical error in Mr. Bole's advt. last week it read: "Our concentrated vinegar is a pure acetic vinegar, containing 5½ per cent. real vinegar acid which should be found in every pure vinegar." "Acetic" should be "acetic." Mr. Bole also sells pure "turmeric," not "turbric," as we had it in last issue.

Notes: There never was a time in the history of Medicine Hat when railway affairs at this important divisional point were so brisk. This summer the number of freight crews here has been increased to sixteen with prospects of a further increase. Twenty-five new men have been entered into the freight service. Several new men have been put on in the shops and also three new car repairers. The prospects for a continuation of the present state of business are bright.

The dwindling of a Klondyke fortune of $130,000 to $5,000 may cool the ardour of many who have filled themselves with the notion of getting into Yukon as fast as possible. If we could get at the truth, it would probably be found that all the stories of big money were tainted with exaggeration almost as great. There is more gold in a Manitoba quarter section, if industriously worked, than in the best claim in the Klondyke. It may not come so fast but the quarter section will be panning good wages after the other is forgotten.

Here's a marriage notice that appeared in an exchange: "Married, at Flintonstone, by Rev. Windstone, Mr. Nehemiah Whitstone and Miss Wilhelmina Sandstone, both of Limestone." This is getting mighty "rocky" and there is bound to be a "blasting" of these "stony" hearts before many "pebbles" appear on the connubial beach. The grindstone of domestic infelicity will sharpen the axe of jealousy and discord and sooner or later one or the other of this pair will rest beneath a tombstone. Then look out for brimstone.—Grafton Record.

An Ottawa telegram states: The Postmaster General is devoting his attention just now to the railway mail clerks department. Over 30 clerks have been dismissed and no one put on in their places. Controller Armstrong is in charge of the department. Mr. Mulock intends abolishing some of the districts where they are wholly unnecessary. It is understood that Sherbrooke and Three Rivers districts will be done away with and inspectors at these points superannuated and their offices closed. A similar policy will be pursued in the other provinces.

D. D. Staples, of Cowan & Staples, Dentists, will visit Moose Jaw on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 30th and 31st, staying at the Brunswick hotel for the practice of dentistry.

For the past few days the C. P. R. depot at this place has presented a very busy appearance, the rush being occasioned by the handling of the baggage of the farm excursionists. A large number had their baggage checked through to Moose Jaw, but some having stopped off at points east of here, their trunks will be shipped back.

The Right Rev. Bishop Gisdale, of Qu'Appelle, Mrs. Gisdale and Miss Gisdale, arrived in Winnipeg last week, returning from a prolonged visit to England. His Lordship went over to the Old Country, sailing on October 24th, specially to see representatives of the great English church societies and the friends and workers of the Diocese of Qu'Appelle in England. He delivered numerous addresses and sermons in England on behalf of missions.

The refining influences of education will presently be open to the Klondyke population. Among the passengers by the steamer Humboldt, which sailed from San Francisco Aug. 10 for Alaska, was Mrs. L. C. Howland, a recent graduate of Radcliffe, and a Boston woman. She carries with her the frame of a school house and the appointments of pedagogy, and looks for pupils among the miners. She is accompanied by her husband, who will run a steamer on the Yukon.

A Toronto despatch says: It is reported here that the C.P.R. has sent a rush order to the Baldwin works for five engines of the most powerful type. The heavy, almost unprecedented traffic of the summer has kept the company's engines working at a high pressure, and the company fears there may be a break down if they are called upon to handle the Manitoba grain traffic without additional locomotives. Yesterday there were seven engines in the repair shops at the junction, and to rush the repairs twenty-five men were borrowed from other shops to help the ordinary staff.

Moose Jaw Fall Fair.

The prize lists of the Moose Jaw Agricultural Society's thirteenth annual fair have been issued from THE TIMES press and make a neat little pamphlet of about twenty pages, being somewhat larger than previous years owing to the large number of special prizes donated by the merchants and townspeople, which speaks well for the directors of the society. The show will be held on Wednesday, October 6th, and we bespeak for it a grand success.

The Protest.

The West Assiniboia protest was finally disposed of at Regina on Wednesday. Mr. Hugh Robson, representing the petitioners, said that he had no evidence to offer and asked that the petition be dismissed. W. C. Hamilton, Q.C. for respondent, Mr. Davin, did not object and would not ask for costs. Judges Maguire and Rouleau then dismissed the petition without order as to costs and Mr. Davin signed his consent to a release of the $1,000 deposit.

Mr. John Secord, Q.C., then asked for a day to be set for the action of criminal libel against Walter Scott, and also for the hearing of the suit for damages. The hearing of both trials was fixed for the session in December next.

The Anamniograph.

The Royal Anamniograph Company showed at the town hall for three nights this week opening Monday. They were greeted with a fairly good house each evening. The anamniograph is a sort of magic lantern exhibition of kinetoscopic pictures—photographs of motion. The exhibition included representations of prize fights, fire brigade runs, fast train, bathing and military drill scenes, and also a number of comic pictures, all of which were produced true to life. Between the scenes character songs, sketches and dances were given by Will McLeod and Barney and Grace Flynn. Mr. McLeod is a first rate comedian and each time he appeared he received a well merited encore.

Summerside.

Please lower your bars and give another rural district permission to enter your ranks and present a few items of interest at least to herself, through the hands of her modest scribe. Let us at least have a handshake and may our acquaintance be both pleasant and profitable.

Crops are looking well and harvest will be general in a few days.

Several new binders have been purchased in this vicinity to reap the bountiful crop.

Mr. Jas. Campbell has completed the stone work of his new house, which when erected will be the finest in the district.

Mr. A. McKeown's swine emporium is rapidly nearing completion.

The garden party in aid of the Sunday school was a decided success both socially and financially. The afternoon was very enjoyably spent in baseball, croquet and athletic sports. An excellent tea was served by the ladies' after which an entertainment was held in the Orange Hall, which reflected credit on those who took part in the programme. Proceeds, $18.00.
